Hi Angus,

Ben Cotton here--we met on Friday at Knotable. Following up to exchange contact info. Look forward to seeing you around there again, and hope to be in touch regardless.

Best,

Ben

Hi Ben, good to hear back from you. Hope the weekend is going well. The weather looks more and more miserable by the day though; I miss the Australian sun.

Hi Milos, thought I'd add you in.

Maybe we could get together for a beer sometime soon. You guys probably know some good bars in Manhattan?

Was just in the process of emailing you, Milos.

That'd be fun. I know a few. I'm sure Milos does as well. During the week is tough for me at the moment because of my work travel, but Fridays usually are good.

This Saturday is unfortunately tough for me--have a work holiday party in the late afternoon/evening. The following weekend I have family visiting. The weekend after that will likely be open, but if you guys want to go ahead without me this time, I understand!

Hi guys,

Dreadfully sorry about this. Our clients just blew up my night by requesting (literally just 5 minutes ago) a new analysis for a final presentation that was supposed to have gone out earlier today, so I have no choice but to stay and finish it. Obviously, you guys should go ahead and revel in my agony, and hopefully we can find another time in the not-too-distant future to catch up together.

Ben
